MP Chloe says 'cheerio' to breast cancer

GOVERNMENT minister Chloe Smith has revealed she is clear of breast cancer.

The constitution minister thanked the doctors and nurses involved in her care, which included chemotherapy and surgery.

Prime Minister Boris Johnson said it was great news and added that he looked forward to seeing Ms Smith return to Westminster.

Norwich North MP Ms Smith (above) said: "Cheerio, cancer! After chemotherapy and surgery, I've not got breast cancer any more."

"I want to thank the NHS doctors and nurses for the careful and expert treatment I've had and for the steps still ahead in recovery and prevention."

The mother-of-two, 39, said it had been a time for "resilience and determination", adding that "probably like the rest of the country right now, I feel hopeful and happier to look ahead to better times".

Lady Di's Escort sells for £52,640

A FORD Escort that was once owned by Diana, Princess of Wales, has been sold at auction to a museum in Chile for £52,640.

Lady Diana Spencer was given the silver 1.6L Ghia saloon by Prince Charles as an engagement present in May 1981, two months before they were married.

The princess stopped using the vehicle soon after giving birth to Prince William in 1982 and it was later bought for £6,000 by an antiques dealer.

BORIS BLASTS WHITTY THUGS

THE Prime Minister has condemned "thugs" who accosted England's chief medical officer.

Boris Johnson hit out after a video posted online appeared to show Professor Chris Whitty being harassed in a central London park.

"I'm shocked at seeing the despicable harassment of chief medical officer Chris Whitty," the PM said.

"I condemn the behaviour of these thugs. Our hard-working public servants should not have to face this kind of intimidation on our streets and we will not tolerate it."

The Metropolitan Police are investigating after the footage, lasting around 20 seconds and apparently taken in St James's Park, was shared on social media.

It shows two grinning men grabbing Prof Whitty as they shout "Oi oi" and say "One photo please?"

As Prof Whitty attempts to walk away, the men grab him again.

With a line of police vans visible in the background, a voice is heard saying "leave the gentleman alone" before the clip ends.

Home Secretary Priti Patel said she was "just horrified" by the incident.

Asked if Prof Whitty now needs the help of security measures, she told Times Radio: "I can't speak about that but it's important that we make sure that Chris is given the right kind of support."

"It's terrible to see such an important public figure, someone that day in, day out, has been serving our country in the way in which he has to keep us safe, being subject to just appalling abuse."

NOT FUNNY: The PM (top) slammed laughing thugs who grabbed Prof Whitty

Priti target of 'racial hatred' vid

TWO men have been accused of "inciting racial hatred" after admitting sharing a racist Snapchat video targeted at Home Secretary Priti Patel.

Jake Henderson posted a widely-shared 50-second video on the social media platform in January, in which he used a racially abusive word to describe Ms Patel (above) following a COVID-19 briefing.

In the video played to Mansfield magistrates, Henderson was heard saying: "As a white man, I won't be listening to people of colour."

Robert Cumming admitted sharing the video on his own Snapchat group, along with the caption "Haters gonna be hating", followed by four laughing emojis.

Prosecutor Daniel Church claimed the video was "motivated by hostility towards members of racial groups".

Henderson, 28, from Newark, Notts, and Cumming, 26, from Doncaster, South Yorkshire, pleaded guilty to a single charge of sending a grossly offensive, indecent, obscene or menacing message or matter via a public communication network.

They were granted unconditional bail until a sentencing hearing on August 12.

Jail for former SA president Zuma

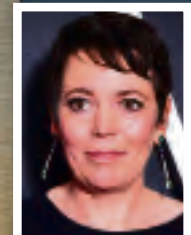

SOUTH Africa's former president Jacob Zuma has been jailed for 15 months by the country's highest court.

He has been given five days to hand himself in to police. Failing that, the police minister must order his arrest.

The sentence came after the Constitutional Court found him guilty of contempt for defying its order to appear at an inquiry into corruption while he was president.

Mr Zuma's time in power, which ended in 2018, was dogged by graft allegations.

LUVVIES WANT TO TAX YOUR PHONE

SMART SUPPORT: Colman (top) and Staunton (above)

ARTY types including actress Olivia Colman and artist Sir Frank Bowling have backed calls for a one-off levy on gadgets like phones and tablets used to download and store "creative content" in order to boost the arts.

Organisers say the Smart Fund could raise up to £300million a year from payments of between 1-3% of the sales value of devices including mobiles, laptops and PCs.

The money would be paid into a central fund used to "fairly reward creators and performers in making a living from their content," according to the fund.

Similar schemes exist in 44 countries, according to the Smart Fund, which is made up of groups representing visual artists, writers, performers and directors.

The Smart Fund says it would generate "huge" annual investment for the creative industries and boost a wider economic recovery.

It says its backers include Oscar, Bafta and Turner Prize winners such as The Crown star Colman, Bowling, actress Imelda Staunton and artists Rachel Whiteread and Yinka Shonibare.

Gilane Tawadros, chief executive of the Design And Artists Copyright Society (DACS), one of the groups backing the Smart Fund, said: "We want to support creators and performers, to rebuild and enable the UK's world leading cultural heritage, tourism and creative industries and contribute to its soft power and international standing."

"The arts provide sustenance to the engine room of cultural regeneration, recovery and renewal for the whole country."

Shonibare said: "The Smart Fund is a no-brainer. Currently there isn't any effective way for creators to be recompensed when their work is downloaded and stored by audiences." However, Tech UK, a network for the country's tech sector, said it sounded like a "new tax" on consumers. "It is an arbitrary tax on consumers that is hugely bureaucratic to manage and with no transparency on how funds are disbursed and spent," said a spokeswoman.

NEWSNIGHT 'TRAITOR' MAN DENIES THREAT CHARGE

A MAN who called Newsnight political editor Nicholas Watt a "traitor" as the BBC journalist was chased near Downing Street has denied a public order offence.

Martin Hockridge, 57, appeared at Westminster Magistrates Court accused of using threatening, abusive or insulting words or behaviour with intent to cause harassment, alarm or distress on June 14. Crowds had gathered in Westminster to protest against the Government's extension of coronavirus restrictions in England by four weeks.

Dressed in black boots, jeans and a camouflage military-style jacket, Hockridge pleaded not guilty to the single charge.

The court heard Hockridge (left), from Harpenden, Herts, does not deny calling Mr Watt a "traitor" and the journalist will not be called as a witness during a trial on November 8.

Hockridge was arrested after footage shared on social media showed demonstrators confronting Mr Watt near Richmond Terrace and Whitehall. Hockridge was released on conditional bail.

Christopher Aitken, 62, from Brixton, has also been charged with a public order offence over the incident and has been bailed.

Seabadger4eva, London, United Kingdom, 4 hours ago

Ohhhh, I'd let those slap me round the face a few times :)

SHE is currently living it up in Los Angeles.

And Rita Ora continued to share a glimpse of her trip with her followers as she posted a slew of sizzling snaps to her Instagram page.

The singer, 30, showcased her cleavage in a pretty nude lace bra, which she wore with a blush silk suit for the impromptu shoot outside a lingerie shop.

Underwear

The hitmaker exhibited her toned and tanned physique in the skin-baring two-piece, which she accessorised with a pair of chic black sunglasses.

Rita wore her curly blonde locks swept back off her face, which had been enhanced with a coat of make-up including a slick of pink lipstick.

Rita playfully captioned the shots: "Just trying to figure out how to get in."

But not everyone was content to merely share in Rita's joie de vivre.

Because when the photos were published on the website of the hate-filled Daily Mail, SEX TROLLS made revolting, uncalled-for and sexist comments.

One lurking behind the pseudonym Seabadger4eva drooled: "Ohhhh, I'd let those slap me round the face a few times".

That's clearly a reference to Rita's delightful busters.

A pal of Rita's said: "Some of these creeps want her boobs to slap in their face, others want to suck on the musky hole of her feminine entry or be drenched in her sparkling lady tinkle."

"There really are some odd people out there."

Ringo drums up deal for Ring O

SIR Ringo Starr has dropped a legal case against the makers of a sex toy called Ring O.

The Beatles drummer (right) had first challenged the Ring O trademark with US authorities in March 2019, saying it was too similar to his name.

But he has now reached an agreement with manufacturers Pacific Coast Holdings and Momentum Management.

Starr, 80, has consented to the use of the name Ring O "only in connection with adult aids and desensitising sprays, and so long as there is a separation between the word "RING" and the letter "O".

Love Island Kem: I had too much sex

FORMER Love Island star Kem Cetinay says he now "regrets having so much sex in the villa"

The 25-year-old won the series alongside his then-girlfriend Amber Davies in 2017, but says he would do things differently now.

Kem (above) said: "Now I've got a business and I've got staff and if new recruits search for me, some of the first articles that come up will be about me having sex on TV."

"But you've got to remember, I was 21. I wasn't who I am now."

"So I don't feel embarrassed about it because it is what it is, it happened."

Kem, who presents the Love Island Morning After podcast, struck up a passionate relationship with Amber during his time on the show.

"Maybe I shouldn't have had as much sex as I did, maybe once or twice would have been enough," he said.

DEMI'S BREAST BITS!

By GRACE HOOPER news@sundaysport.co.uk

DEMI Rose Mawby is a familiar face to Midweek Sport readers.

But now she will become even more famous, and a bit richer, by posing snaps to fruity website OnlyFans.

The 26-year-old, from Birmingham, has been modelling for eight years and has racked up over 16 million Instagram followers.

Her bikini photos are shared daily online and attract hundreds of comments.

"I always wanted to get into modelling and when I got there I classed it as a blessing because I grew up being bullied and didn't have many friends," she said.

Control

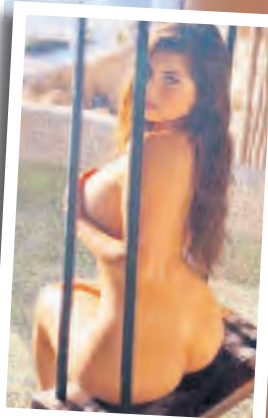

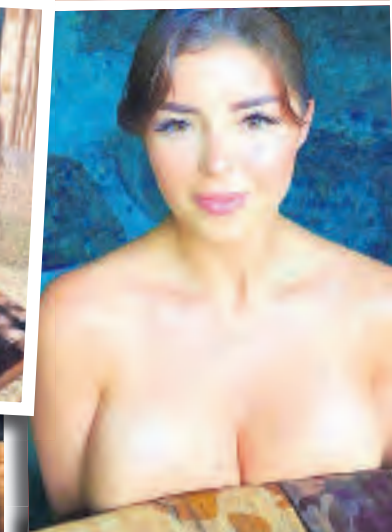

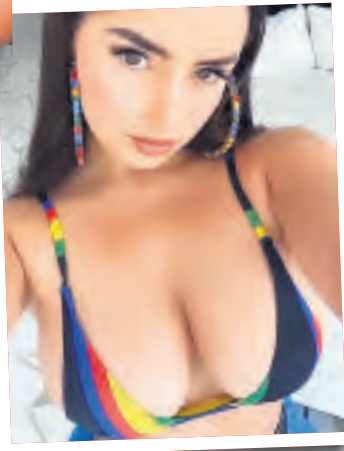

The majority of her online content is fashion-based, showing off editorial shoots and collections with brands.

Demi Rose says that despite having so many followers, she'd like more control over what she posts – and to make more money off it.

She's now made the decision to join subscription-based service OnlyFans.

"I was always cautious about joining, but I've been watching more creators and artists joining and I was like, 'OK wow, it's becoming more accepted'," she says.

While millions will no doubt rush to sign up, here are some of Demi Rose's best FREE snaps.

Quarantine rule for top execs is 'taking the piss'

A QUARANTINE exemption for top overseas executives "just takes the piss", Labour's deputy leader has said.

The Department for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy said senior overseas business people would no longer need to isolate when arriving in England if their trip is likely to be of "significant economic benefit to the UK".

But the move was criticised by Angela Rayner (above), who tweeted: "Sorry for the unparliamentary language but this just takes the pi."

"It is the lowest paid working people who have got our country through this crisis."

"This is an offensive slap in the face for them and shows this government's true colours. Yet again it is one rule for those at the top and another for everyone else."

Business leaders would need written permission for the exemption and would not qualify if their activities could be carried out remotely.

A WALK could save your life!

Brisk walking for 150 minutes per week may stave off the risk of an early death caused by poor sleep, research suggests.

A lack of sleep is linked to a wide range of health issues, including an increased risk of stroke, heart disease and cancer.

But a study published online in the British Journal of Sports Medicine has found that exercising in line with World Health Organisation (WHO) guidelines "eliminated most of the deleterious associations" of poor sleep with risk of death.

The WHO recommends people have at least 600 metabolic equivalent minutes of physical activity per week – the equivalent of 150 minutes a week of brisk walking or 75 minutes of running.

HAVE THE RUSSIANS HACKED WHITEHALL SECURITY CAMERAS?

MI5 probe claims 'foreign agents' got control of Matt Hancock's CCTV

By SIMON DEAN simon@sundaysport.co.uk

SPYCATCHERS from MI5 are to probe whether RUSSIAN agents hacked the Department of Health CCTV system to get footage of Matt Hancock snogging Gina Coladangelo and groping her arse.

It's feared that spies from Vladimir Putin's feared FSB secret police have somehow found a way to spy on British ministers in their own offices and are using footage to destabilise the British state.

One security source said: "What are the chances of a minister being caught like this just days after Britain humiliated Russia by steaming a warship through waters they claim as their own?"

"It's too much of a coincidence and there's no such thing as coincidence in the intelligence world."

Last week, HMS Defender was buzzed and fired on by Russian forces sailing through waters off the Crimea, which Russia illegally annexed in 2014.

President Putin was said to be "furious" at the provocation and ordered his operatives to "seek revenge".

Kissing

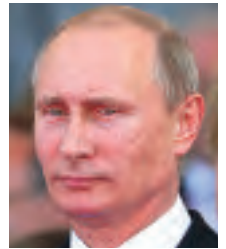

Claims of Russian dirty tricks were given added weight yesterday when it emerged that the CCTV camera that filmed Matt Hancock cheating on his wife with university friend Ms Coladangelo should have been pointing in the opposite direction.

Security expert David Videcette, a former Scotland Yard detective, says the camera would have been there to watch the former health secretary's 9th floor balcony, which also contained his fire exit.

Mr Videcette believes 'someone repurposed the camera', raising the prospect that it was either physically or remotely turned 180 degrees toward the door where the colleagues were caught kissing.

He tweeted: "The decisions to use this space as his office have been idiotic. But the point here is this – someone repurposed the camera."

He added: "The implications of that

SEEKING REVENGE: Putin

BUM GROPE: Coladangelo

SNOG CHEAT: Hancock

from a security point of view is huge."

It raises the prospect that someone may have known that the lovers canoodled against the office door and turned the camera to get the evidence that saw Mr Hancock leave his job and his wife.

A Department of Health and Social Care investigation will now consider if the camera was swivelled around and, if so, who did it.

A Scotland Yard security review said that a CCTV camera in his office should have a "limited field of vision" to "ensure privacy".

Sajid Javid has taken over the office and has had the CCTV camera above the meeting table taped up and disabled.

Ministers' offices are now being swept for bugs and hidden cameras.

Sky's the limit for flying cars

FLYING cars will be deployed in cities by the end of the decade, an automotive boss has claimed.

Michael Cole, president and chief executive of South Korean car maker Hyundai's European operations, said the technology will cut congestion and emissions.

He said: "We think by the latter part of this decade certainly, urban air mobility will offer great opportunity to free up congestion in cities, to help with emissions."

The model, 23, looked sensational as she slipped into a tiny pink bikini that put her toned figure and peachy posterior on display and also showed a glimpse of her underboob, while she later glanced over her shoulder after shedding her top.

One fan slavered: "I'd drink her bath water."

"Especially if she'd had a cheeky, sneaky, little wee in it."

Tic Tac UFO man: I want an apology

A NAVY veteran who was ridiculed over the "white Tic Tac" UFO sightings in 2004 wants a public apology from US defence officials following the long-awaited US government report about military personnel spotting other strange sightings in the sky.

In a series of Facebook posts after the report's release last week, Kevin Day said his career "paid a price" after he was "laughed at, mocked and talked about behind closed doors within [the US Department of Defense]" for trying to describe what he'd seen on his radar screen in November 2004.

"I paid a very high price personally and I hold the NAVY/DOD directly responsible for their complete and utter malfeasance and dereliction of duty," Day (above) posted.

"I also hold NAVY/DOD directly responsible for what I and others went through as a result of trying to uphold our own duty."

House price growth hits first-timers

ANNUAL house price growth accelerated to 13.4 per cent in June, marking the strongest growth since November 2004, according to an index.

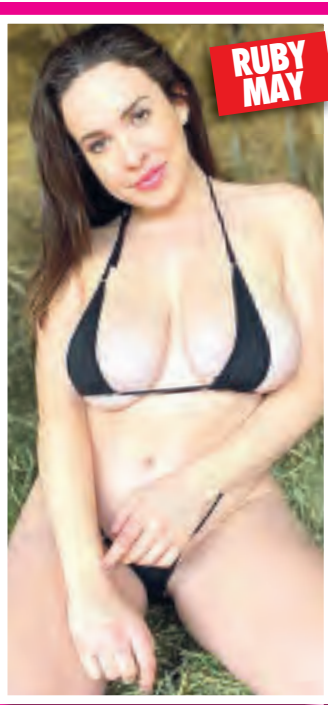

Across the UK, the average house price in June was £245,432, Nationwide Building Society said.

Robert Gardner, Nationwide's chief economist, said: "Prices in June were almost 5 per cent higher than in March."

He added that while mortgage rates remain close to all-time lows: "House prices are close to a record high relative to average incomes."

"This is important because it makes it even harder for prospective first-time buyers to raise a deposit."

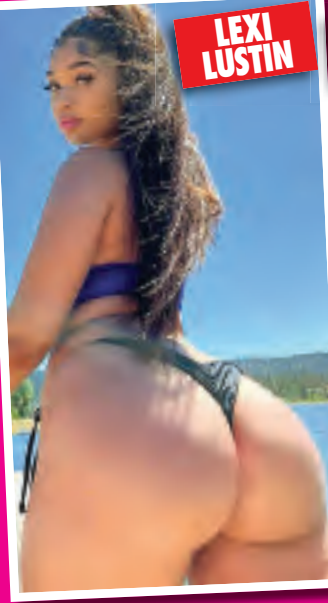

A stamp duty holiday will be tapered from July.

LESBIAN P.E. MISS LICKED OUT TEEN

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A LESBIAN teacher has been jailed for licking out and fingering a teen girl pupil.

Stephanie Walzl reached a plea deal and pleaded guilty to sexually abusing a student.

The teacher and lacrosse coach at Reservoir High School in Fulton, Maryland, was slapped with five counts of fourth-degree sex offence of a student.

After she entered her guilty plea, Howard County Circuit Court Judge Mary Kramer sentenced her to five years in prison.

All but two of those years have been suspended.

Walzl will do her time behind bars at the Howard County Detention Center in Jessup, Maryland.

Investigators began probing the teacher in June 2020 after hearing of an inappropriate relationship she had with a student.

Walzl exchanged tens of thousands of text messages with her teen victim, many explicitly detailing lesbian acts, over a six-month period.

The two maintained contact throughout each day including before, during and after school hours.

Investigators are not aware of any other victims.

In the immediate aftermath of Walzl's arrest, the teacher was put on administrative leave.

"Teachers and coaches have an influential role in the lives of young people and at no time, ever, should they use their position of authority to take advantage of a student entrusted to their care," Howard County State's Attorney Rich Gibson said.

He added: "This type of improper conduct will not be tolerated by our office and all offenders will be held accountable for their actions."

Man nicked for plop on cop car

TWO people have been charged after an incident during which a man SHAT on a cop car.

A police spokesman said the marked vehicle was defecated on and damaged after officers were called to a punch-up outside a pub.

The incident also saw a police officer assaulted in the disorder outside the Flying Standard pub in Coventry.

One man has been charged with assaulting a cop and another charged with criminal damage.

Both have been bailed and are due to appear before magistrates next month.

Arthur Pattinson, 50, of no fixed address, has been charged with assaulting a police officer and David Pemberton, 48, of Cheylesmore, has been charged with criminal damage.

What followed was some irate foot-stamping by the bully Ivans and the world moving close to a full-on crisis.

The invasion of Crimea put Russia firmly in the world's bad books, as did the poisoning of opposition leader Alexander Litvinenko in 2006, the Salisbury poisonings of Sergei and Yulia Skripal in 2018 and, more recently, the poisoning

But such antics are par for the course from the leaders of snow-caked Muscovy.

Working out works for better sex

WOMEN who work out have better sex, new research suggests.

According to a study published in the Journal of Sexual Medicine, women should work out four to six hours a week if they want a better sex life.

Researchers from the University of Florence found that amount of time improved the chances of orgasm and increased arousal.

"Four to six hours of exercise is the right amount for a number of reasons," says Satinder Brar, a registered psychotherapist based in Milton, Ontario.

"Being active leads to a more positive body image, raises self-esteem which can help a woman feel more sexy, confident and attractive, thus making a woman more likely to engage in sexual activities and having more satisfaction from it."

But the study also found that women who exercised six hours or more a week complained of lack of interest in sex, low rates of arousal and a failure to orgasm.

She tried to ride it into the service station so she could use the bog but wasn't able to, and fell off the horse trying to relieve herself on some grass.

A group of youngsters laughed at her and Parnell tried to get her horse to kick them, but instead it kicked a car, causing £1,000 worth of damage.

In court in Proserpine, Queensland, Parnell pleaded guilty to a slew of charges, was fined and ordered to pay compo.

ANOTHER reason why we're better out....

EU TO FEED DEAD PIGS TO CHICKENS!

EUROCRATS are to allow farmers to feed their chickens DEAD PIGS as they lift a ban imposed after the BSE crisis.

The ban on farm feed made of animal remains, introduced during the BSE crisis, is to end in the EU to allow cheap pig protein to be fed to chickens over fears European farmers are being undercut by lower standards elsewhere.

The change to the regulations comes into force in August following a last-ditch attempt by a coalition of MEPs, led by the Greens, which failed to kill the policy.

EU member states have already endorsed the regulation, with only France and Ireland abstaining.

Horrors

The use of processed animal protein (PAP) from mammals in the feed of cattle and sheep was banned by the EU in 1994 as the full horrors of BSE, or bovine spongiform encephalopathy, emerged.

The first case of BSE was reported in 1986 in the UK. The disease was spread widely by farmers feeding cattle with the meat and bone meal of dead and infected animals.

More than four million cattle were slaughtered in the UK and 178 people died after contracting the human variant, Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease, which was understood to be passed along by consuming infected beef.

McNuggets dip bombing threat

A MAN has been arrested for allegedly threatening to blow up a McDonald's because workers forgot to add dipping sauce to his order.

Robert Golwitzer, 42, is accused of calling in the explosive threat after he ordered a portion of chicken McNuggets from the fast-food restaurant.

In addition to the bomb threat, Golwitzer also allegedly said that he would twat a worker.

Police in Ankeny, Iowa called Golwitzer and he allegedly admitted over the phone and later at the nick to making the threats.

He is charged with false report of explosive or incendiary device, jailed but later bailed.

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

The European Commission has informed MEPs that there was no health risk from allowing PAP from pigs and insects to be fed to poultry, the feeding of pigs with chicken PAP, or the use of gelatine and collagen from sheep and cattle being fed to other farmed animals.

The change was said to be necessary to allow EU farmers to operate by the same standards as those exporting into the union.

A ban on both the use of PAP in feed to cows and sheep and on 'intra species recycling', otherwise known as cannibalism, will remain in force.

The regulation was agreed by the member states in April, leaving MEPs three months to scrutinise the text and raise an objection before it came into force.

Pier Nicola Pedicini, an Italian MEP in the Greens group, had sought to build a majority on the parliament's environment committee to record an objection, but his efforts were in vain.

The UK continues to ban the use of PAP in the feed of farm animals. A spokesperson for the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs said: "The UK is committed to maintaining the highest animal welfare and biosecurity standards and following our departure from the EU there is no legal obligation for us to implement any of these changes."

WEINSTEIN TRIAL IN OPERA STYLE!

NOW it's Harvey Weinstein... the OPERA!

A musical drama about the Manhattan trial of the sex beast movie mogul is in production in Northern Ireland and may be coming to New York.

"There are conversations about taking it somewhere off the beaten track in New York, but it is very early days still," Conor Mitchell, director of the Belfast Ensemble, which is staging the opera, said. "I think New York City would be its natural home."

Mitchell, 43, plans to get "The Trial of Harvey Weinstein: An Opera" up and running in time for the Belfast International Arts Festival in October.

Mitchell, who wrote the music himself, said he will take the libretto directly from the six women who testified against Weinstein (left) during his trial.

"I care about the effect of his actions on other people," Mitchell said.

New York TITTY!

IN recent weeks, we've had a lot of letters from readers asking for pictures of topless lesbians dancing in fountains.

And, would you believe what landed this week?

Pictures of just such an occurrence! Dozens of women went topless for New York City's annual Dyke March at the weekend, as smaller than usual crowds turned out for the main Pride parade amid COVID restrictions.

The Dyke March, which celebrates lesbian pride, began at Bryant Park and ended at Washington Square Park, where couples splashed around in the fountain and embraced in lesbian clinches.

For some campaigners, showing breasts in public is a form of protest to assert the right of women to dress as they wish.

The spectacle delighted many New Yorkers.

One onlooker said: "I've just had me a whole mess of crystal meth, so I was horny as hell anyhow."

"Then I sees a whole mess of lesbians dancing about with their lesbian titties out, kissing each other on their pretty lesbian mouths."

"Hell, how's a body to have control? I'm gone hornier than my old grandpappy's steer ranch out west, yessir!"

'Slim' Kim a worrying sight for his people

NORTH Koreans are worried sick about tubby leader Kim Jong-un's apparent weight loss, according to state media.

The rare public comment on Kim's health came after foreign analysts noted in early June that the autocratic leader, who is believed to be 37, appeared to have lost a noticeable amount of weight.

"Seeing the respected general secretary looking emaciated breaks our people's heart so much," one Pyongyang resident told state broadcaster KRT.

"Everyone is saying their tears welled up."

Early last year, speculation about Kim's health exploded after he missed the birth anniversary celebrations of state founder Kim Il Sung on April 15, only to reappear in public in early May.

In 2014, state media reported that Kim was suffering from "discomfort" after a prolonged period out of the public eye.

FANS CLAIM LOVE ISLAND SEATS LOOK JUST LIKE SEX TOYS...

THOSE ARE BUNNY-LOOKING CHAIRS!

LOVE Island fans reckon a particular piece of furniture in the villa's living room resembles a popular sex toy.

The dating show returned on Monday after over a year off-screen, with the last series airing in early 2020.

This year's run also sees the action return to Majorca, with the 2020 winter series having been filmed in South Africa.

Ahead of the broadcast of the first episode of 2021, Love Island bosses have teased the new look of the Majorcan villa with a revamped bedroom, bathroom, terrace and firepit.

The living room notably features two giant stools in the shape of bunnies situated near a set of sofas.

And some fans think they look similar to Rampant Rabbit sex toys sold by Ann Summers.

After images of the new villa were shared on the official Love Island Reddit page, one pointed out: "Is it just me or do those bunnies look like something else."

"The décor has never been this sexualised," another fan flagged.

Another cheekily remarked: "Okay but there will def be people riding those bunnies."

If that wasn't enough, there are also plenty of suggestive-looking images plastered across the walls of the bedroom, featuring peeled bananas and aubergines.

And we all know what the aubergine emoji represents.

The hideaway, where any of the contestants can go to get some privacy from the rest of the group, has been given a sexy new makeover and boasts new secret drawers.

The cast for this year's series includes (above) Shannon Singh, Faye Winter, Kaz Kamwi, Sharon Gaffka, Liberty Poole and Chloe Burrows.

Oh, there are also some blokes, apparently.

Woman lived with TIDDLYWINK in nose for 37 years

A WOMAN who lived with pain in her nose for 37 years has finally discovered the cause after having a COVID test.

It's a TIDDLYWINK! Mary McCarthy, 45, from Christchurch, New Zealand, said her nose was "constantly leaking" after her coronavirus test and went to see several GPs who brushed it off as a chronic sinus issue.

But when the pain worsened she went to Christchurch Hospital's emergency department and a CT scan discovered there was an object lodged in her nose.

When she woke up after a procedure to remove it, doctors revealed the object was a yellow Tiddlywink that had been lodged in her nose for almost four decades.

"It hadn't even lost its colour," Mary said.

CHANNEL 4 PHWOAR!

CHANNEL 4's four decades as a publicly owned broadcaster could be coming to an end.

Ministers are pushing ahead with controversial plans to sell the channel as part of a shake-up that could transform the landscape of British television.

Culture secretary Oliver Dowden (right) confirmed he would hold a consultation on proposed privatisation. The broadcaster – home to The Great British Bake Off, It's A Sin and Channel 4 News – is editorially independent but has been owned by the state since it was created in 1982 by Margaret Thatcher's government. It has a remit to commission distinctive programming and serve diverse audiences across the UK.

Dowden said privatisation would ensure Channel 4 kept "its place at the heart of British broadcasting".

But will C4 lose its place as the home of "distinctive programming" and especially programming with a lot of BOOBS!

We hope not. But just in case, let's look back at some of the best booby C4 shows and C4 babes....

The spy who saved Israel

LIKENESS:
The real Eli Cohen (right) and Sacha Baron Cohen playing him in The Spy

FEW spy agencies inspire the level of intrigue that Israel's Mossad does.

And among its agents there are few, if any, that have achieved the status of Eli Cohen.

In the mid-1960s, he posed as a wealthy Arab businessman for years in order to infiltrate the highest levels of the Syrian regime and send invaluable intelligence back to his Israeli handlers.

Cohen's story was recounted in The Spy, the six-episode Netflix mini-series.

It starred comic actor Sacha Baron Cohen, known for his roles in Borat and the Showtime series he created, Who is America?

The Spy* depicts Eli Cohen's transformation from office clerk to Mossad operative to Syrian power player.

It is a daring tale of espionage that plays more like something out of a James Bond thriller than a history book.

The remarkable part, of course, is that it really happened.

Here's the true story behind The Spy.

ELIYAHU Cohen, an Egyptian Jew, was born in Alexandria in 1924.

As a young adult, he worked within Egypt to secretly assist other Egyptian Jews in emigrating to Israel.

Cohen later became part of an Israeli spy network in the country, which was uncovered and dismantled by Egyptian authorities in 1954.

After arriving in Israel at the end of the 1956 Suez Crisis,

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Cohen volunteered to join Israel's military intelligence but was turned away.

Realities

The Spy series picks up after those events, with Cohen now struggling with the bland realities of civilian life.

But in 1960, when facing an increasingly tense border situation with Syria, Israeli intelligence recruited Cohen.

They trained him for more than six months in Israel before sending him off to try to gain acceptance in the Syrian expat community in Buenos Aires, Argentina, under a new alias, Kamal Amin Thabet.

In South America, Cohen, or Thabet, as his Syrian associates would have known him, posed as a wealthy businessman.

He succeeded in gaining the friendship of many influential members of Syria's community abroad before travelling to Damascus in early 1962 carrying their invaluable letters of introduction.

There, he carried on a high-powered social life, holding parties at his home that were attended by top Syrian officials, who he was able to ply subtly for information.

Those connections enabled Cohen to collect much more than just political gossip.

His new pals invited him to tour Syrian military bases and, as depicted in The Spy, to extensively visit the regime's fortifications on the Golan Heights, a strategically valuable piece of land that Israeli would later seize in the 1967 Six Day War.

As Cohen burrowed deeper and deeper into Syria's political and military hierarchy, he would continuously send intelligence updates back to his handlers across the border.

He would do this either by tapping out dispatches in Morse code, or by smuggling documents out through Europe.

In the series, Cohen skillfully establishes himself within the Syrian community in Buenos Aires, eventually meeting Colonel Amin al-Hafez, a high profile Syrian officer put out to pasture in Argentina as Syria's military attaché.

In truth, the real Amin al-Hafez really did befriend Cohen in South America.

Benefits

Later, after Hafez had returned to Syria and toppled the ruling government with a group of Ba'athist conspirators in 1963, Cohen, by that point in Syria, reaped the benefits.

Hafez, who would become Syria's president, accepted expensive gifts from his apparently wealthy friend, invited him to banquets and even prepared to appoint him as Syria's Defence Minister.

But all the while he was inadvertently providing the Israeli agent a level of access to the Syrian regime that the Mossad could have only dreamt of.

The Spy shows Cohen growing close to Hafez and a group of Syrian conspirators known as the Ba'ath Party, who were preparing to seize power in the country. This group of radicals would take power in Syria in March 1963.

SECRET WORLD OF SPIES

EXPOSED

The Ba'athists were a group of primarily secular Arab nationalists who opposed colonialism and promoted socialism, militarism and Arab unification.

General Hafez al-Assad, who ruled Syria from 1970 to 2000, was a Ba'athist, as is his son, Bashar al-Assad, who became president after his father's death.

And a month before

Ba'athists took power in Syria, another group of Ba'athists took over Iraq.

The Iraqi Ba'athists were removed from power within a few months, but they came back in 1968 under their leader Saddam Hussein, who went on to rule the country for decades.

Dangerous

In late 1964, Cohen went home to Israel for leave and a break from his intense professional but dangerous undercover life.

DEADLY GAME: Eli Cohen and his wife enjoy the high life, as depicted in series The Spy

When he returned to Syria, he again began transmitting coded dispatches to Israel, often broadcasting at the same time each day, an error that would make it easy for Syrian counterintelligence to trace his transmitter.

Caught

Likely aided by Soviet radio-detection kit, Syrian soldiers broke into Cohen's apartment in early 1965 and caught "Thabet" in the middle of a transmission to his intelligence handlers in Israel.

The Israelis, European governments and even the Pope asked the Syrians to spare Cohen's life, but to no avail.

He was brutally tortured, then sentenced to death and hanged in Damascus on May 19, 1965.

The Syrians still consider him a traitor even after all these years.

But in Mossad circles and to Israeli hardliners, Cohen will always be a true hero.

KILLER TRIO CHOPPED UP SCHOOLMATE WITH AN AXE

THREE people have been charged with first-degree murder and more than 80 other charges over the slaying and dismemberment of an old schoolmate.

Dylan Whetzel's remains were found in rubbish bags in woods in western Spotsylvania, Virginia, on February 1.

The 20-year-old had been shot in the head and killed prior to being dismembered with an axe.

Bronwyn Meeks, 22, and Domonic Samuels, 19, of Spotsylvania, and Brennan Thomas, 19, of Woodbridge, face charges that include first-degree murder, murder by mob, strangulation, abduction, concealing a dead body, three counts of using a firearm in the commission of a crime, 12 counts of shooting during the commission of a crime and multiple counts of conspiracy.

Bloody

Each suspect is charged with at least 27 offences.

Meeks additionally faces four counts of soliciting others to act as accessories after the fact of murder and two counts of threatening witnesses in writing.

In a 911 call played at a preliminary hearing, Thomas's grandfather said Thomas told him he had shot someone after the victim came at him.

The grandfather went into the woods and saw the bags.

In his phone call, he mentioned a bloody axe and said: "What the fk did [Thomas] do?"

SEXY Lana Parker isn't bothered whether she has a QUICKIE or goes hell for leather in a MARATHON BONK, just so long as she gets a good SHAG.

The scorcher, from Reigate in Surrey, said: "Having sex all night can be fun and so satisfying, but sometimes you just need a quick release."

"I think it totally depends on the situation, too. If you're in a place where you can only get away with a quick shag, a quickie is terrific."

"However, if you've got all night together, I love to take my time and do it over and over again."

If thoughts of bonking the blonde bombshell weren't enough to make you feel all hot under the collar, she also wants to film herself in the act.

The 32DD stunna added: "I think it would be really naughty and fun to film myself and a guy having sex."

"And then we could watch it back together to get us in the mood for doing it all over again!"

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Why can't politicians keep it in their pants?

IT'S always the quiet ones...

Yet this Matt Hancock sex stuff is astonishing precisely because he is arguably the last man on earth you'd expect to be getting his dick wet anywhere outside of his marital bedroom.

We could expect Boris Johnson to be caught with his crumpled pants down and dripping fat boy sweat and blond hair dye over some winsome office aide he, er, later marries.

Or nabbing Bojo's former right hand extra-terrestrial Dominic Cummings with six green alien fingers quivering over the nuclear button.

Those are scenarios we might take in our stride, like the nation did when Phil Schofield came out as gay and all we wondered was why he was the last to know.

But Matt Hancock? A shagger? With that face? Seriously?

Thrusting

He has all the charm and charisma of a flatpack MFI kitchen cabinet long since fly-tipped into a layby by traveller types, then covered in discarded bags of dog shit.

Not quite the thrusting swordsman who's been secretly shagging himself silly through the apocalypse while his wife was at home serving spaghetti to their three children.

It's said that power can be an aphrodisiac, but you don't see traffic wardens being chased down the street by women demanding their bare arses get roughly slapped with a ticket.

So what is it about politicians?

In recent-ish history there's been David Blunkett, Robin Cook, John Prescott, David Mellor, Alan Clarke, Paddy Ashdown.

We had Chris Bryant,

CAUGHT KISSING :
Hancock and aide
Gina Coladangelo

a gay vicar-turned MP advertising himself on Grindr in his undies.

And former Welsh Secretary Ron Davies, who fessed up to a "moment of madness" by hooking up with a guy on Clapham Common.

And then again a couple of years later when he had another "moment of madness", photographed emerging from roadside bushes with another man, claiming they'd been looking for badgers.

Even John "Dull" Major confessed to rogering Secretary of State for Eggs Edwina Currie while wife Norma prepared his peas supper back at their flat in Number 10.

And now Hancock, whose surname was seemingly invented for a political sex scandal, joins the list.

Talk now is that he could even make a spectacular return to the cabinet later this year on the grounds that perma-semi Boris can hardly criticise him for getting his rocks off.

All eyes now on Theresa May. With this lot, you never know...

TALKING of John Major, a little over a quarter of a century ago there were headlines across the world when his then Number 10 address was infiltrated by an undercover reporter.

At the time, the young hack – who happened to be yours truly – wrote how terrified he'd been that MIS could jump out of a corner at any moment to double-tap me for the bother.

But nothing ever happened. Ever. Not so much as a request to see Inspector Knacker, never mind a "visit" from any spooks.

Now we learn that one of the country's great institutions has been bugged and covertly recording the shenanigans of the Secretary of State for Large Teeth and Bigger Gums.

Nice to see that, 26 years on, lessons learned and all that piffle, our ludicrously expensive security services are still... ludicrous.

Sex Miss: It's dangerous if we get caught

A TEACHER who told her teenage student "it's dangerous if we get caught" told a court how ashamed and embarrassed she is now for the sex acts.

Monica Young was 23 when she first began texting the 14-year-old boy, telling him not to tell anyone.

After he contacted her via Instagram, she found his Snapchat account and the two exchanged messages about the sexual acts they wished to perform on each other, as well as nude photographs.

Sexual acts occurred in empty classrooms, during a movie screening with other students nearby and on a staircase at the high school in Sydney, Australia.

CCTV footage captured Young driving to meet the teenager in a park after she messaged words to the effect "it's dangerous if we get caught, but if you do it, it'll be worth it".

Young (above) has pleaded guilty to three charges of having sexual intercourse in aggravating circumstances.

She will be sentenced on July 8.

Naked men on beach broke lockdown rules

TWO men were fined by police after breaching coronavirus restrictions by sunbathing naked.

The pair were caught after startling a deer while catching some rays on a beach in the nude.

The men ran into bushes near the beach to escape the deer and were caught after they had to be rescued.

New South Wales police sent a helicopter to search for them in a national park 40km south of Sydney, Australia.

Authorities confirmed they had found a 30-year-old man naked and carrying a backpack on the walking trail near Lady Wakehurst Drive in the Royal national park.

After a further search, they also located a 49-year-old man who was "partially clothed".

In one incident earlier this month, the body of a puma vanished after a string of credible reports.

The big cat, otherwise known as a mountain lion or cougar, had been killed in a collision with a vehicle in Winchester, Hants, on June 6.

Several eye-witnesses reported the incident and the news quickly reached a nationwide network of undercover big cat researchers, who immediately sent local members to investigate.

But upon their arrival at the scene, the body was already GONE.

Jon McGowan, the wildlife expert, naturalist, taxidermist and star of upcoming award-winning independent documentary film 'Britain's Big Cat Mystery', is not surprised.

He has been investigating reports of British big cats for decades and believes there is a conspiracy to

By TIM WHITTARD

news@sundaysport.co.uk

suppress the truth about the phenomenon.

"Big cats are killed on British roads more commonly than you might think," he said.

"The authorities send anonymous teams in unmarked vehicles to recover the dead bodies before the press or witnesses can record the evidence.

"I have a similar story myself."

Jon once saw a dead cat on a roadside which he estimates may have been up to 9ft long including its tail.

Other onlookers and witnesses thought the animal was "a dead lion".

Disappeared

Jon was late for an important meeting and so was only able to take one photograph of it before leaving the area near to a busy military base.

He planned to come back later that evening to recover the body, but it had mysteriously disappeared by the time he returned.

Big cat researcher Frank Tunbridge, from Gloucestershire, says Jon's theory is true.

Frank said: "I know that a guy hit a big cat on the Monmouth Road, heading out of the Forest of Dean. He thought it was a golden Labrador and phoned the police to report it, but the Forestry Commission had rangers in the area who went to check it out.

"Not long afterwards, the rangers phoned their office to report that 'it's no golden Labrador that's been hit, it's a lynx!'"

Frank added: "The rangers were told to keep their mouths shut and were instructed to bury the body in the forest."

"Gamekeepers have been known to do the same."

On May 18, 2012, a dead animal was found in Cullen, Morayshire,

CONSPIRACY THEORY:
Jon McGowan

which was thought to have been a big cat.

The body had dark fur and large teeth and it was reported at the time that the remains would be sent to Bob Wallace, from the now disbanded 'Big Cats in Britain' group, for analysis.

Bob never got the remains.

He said: "I am unable to shed any light as to where the remains of the animal ended up but can assure you they never came to myself or the group."

It seems this was yet another case of a vanishing body of a weird dead animal, found somewhere it should not have been, with a trail of awkward silence left in its wake.

Other similar cases include an alleged jungle cat hit by a car in the Avon Valley in 2015; a report by Lincolnshire Live on November 21, 2017, of the body of a black leopard found on the A1, which several eye-witnesses stated had been put in the back of a truck and removed by highways workers; and a report by the Oxford Mail on March 9, 2020, of the dead body of a puma-sized big cat on the central reservation of the A34 near Kidlington, which also was mysteriously removed.

Perhaps the most famous case, likened as the 'Roswell incident' of the British big cat phenomenon, is that of a black leopard found on the A169 Pickering to Whitby road on June 9, 2004.

Reports at the time state that numerous witnesses saw a group of anonymous personnel load the body into an unmarked vehicle and take it into nearby military base, RAF Fylingdales.

An investigator even spoke with a guard on the gate of the base who acknowledged the incident and admitted seeing the leopard's body come in.

At the time the Ministry of Defence (MOD) denied the claims had any credibility.

And in more recent Freedom of Information requests, the MOD have stated they have no records of the incident or any bodies of big cats at the base.

Dear Ashleigh,

I'VE recently taken up cycling, putting the miles in and getting really fit, and it's totally changed my luck with women.

I spotted a blonde sunbathing in her garden the other week as I went for a ride in the country.

At first I pretended there was something wrong with my bike and stopped near her house.

We got chatting and she asked me in for a brew. But it soon became pretty clear that she wanted me to ride her and, thanks to my increased stamina, I gave her a proper seeing to.

And a couple of nights ago I saw a tasty brunette outside a pub, and I pulled her, too!

She gave great head and loved it doggy-style. The problem is, after all this shagging, I've done my back in and can't go out for a ride.

What should I do?

MW, South Yorkshire

Ashleigh says...

GO for a walk, you should be OK.

Dear Ashleigh,

I AM a 25-year-old single mum and recently I have started fantasising about having sex with female hookers.

I dream about paying them their cash up front and telling them to slowly undress in front of me.

Then I get them to lick and suck on their own boobs for a while as I sit on a chair in the corner and watch.

Finally, I ask them to play with themselves, slowly adding one, then two and maybe even three fingers if they can fit them in.

I'd love to know what it's like to have sex with another girl, but think I'm too terrified to go through with it.

Any advice?

VJ, Herts

Ashleigh says...

GET some lesbo porn and play with yourself.

Online shoppers love my special deliveries

Dear Ashleigh,

I WORK for a delivery firm and take parcels all over the country.

Over the years I have built up quite a regular "round" of online shoppers.

And I have one or two ladies who have come to expect a "special" delivery from me.

My favourite is a blonde who is younger than me but willingly spreads 'em.

I dropped off a parcel for her, which turned out to be a copy of the Kama Sutra.

She thumbed through it and had us both naked in an instant.

She was surprisingly moist as she got into an interesting position and guided my eight-incher inside her.

Then I rammed her good and hard, just how she likes it.

Now she wants me to go through the book with her, but she lives miles away from me, and I'm married.

What shall I do?

GS, Birmingham

Ashleigh says...

KEEP shagging, the Kama Sutra should spice up your sex life at home, too.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Caravan romps with wife's horny cousin

Dear Ashleigh,

MY wife has recently gone off sex, making the excuse that she's been very stressed at work.

It's caused no end of arguments and I've been so frustrated that I've had to resort to tugging myself off at every opportunity.

Anyway, things changed for the better when I was at a family do three months ago and I got chatting to her cousin.

She's a busty blonde aged 30 and I couldn't keep my eyes off her cracking tits as well as her well-rounded arse.

Throbbing

After a few wines she told me that since she had her second kid two years ago she and her hubby have grown apart.

We got on really well and at the end of the night we had a quick snog when nobody was looking.

Then she suggested that we should have a discreet affair. I was well up for it.

Luckily for me, my mate has a caravan on a site not far from where I live, so we meet up there three times a week.

And it didn't take me long to find out that this horny bird is hungry for cock.

In fact, she's up for just about anything and it's all I can do to keep up with her.

The first time I shagged her, she was keen to give me a raging stiffy by wearing stockings and suspenders.

She lap-danced for me and was talking dirty, telling me what she wanted.

Then she sank to her knees in front of me and greedily sucked my throbbing nine-incher.

Just as I was about to come, I pulled out and came all over her bouncy 34DDs.

Then it was my turn to lick her out and I used my tongue to such good effect that she had a shuddering orgasm.

But she was eager for more and soon had me hard again before begging me to take her doggy-style.

I pounded into her hard and fast and she loved it, shouting at me to keep going and give it to her even harder.

I didn't think it could get any better, but after about 10 minutes she told me to take her up the arse.

I couldn't believe my luck. We didn't have any lube, but nothing was going to stop me now and so I simply used her fanny juice.

I thrust into her, enjoying the sound of my balls slapping against her bum cheeks, until we both climaxed and fell into a heap totally exhausted.

But just as I thought this relationship couldn't be more perfect, the shit has suddenly hit the fan.

The problem is that she wants us to leave our partners and set up home together.

I don't want to go that far, as it will cause too many problems.

Any advice?

HS, Devon

Ashleigh says...

YOU should end this before your naughty secret is discovered.

I bonked screaming nurse during mum's hearing test

Dear Ashleigh,

I TOOK my old mum to the hospital for a hearing test the other day and ended up shagging one of the nurses while I was waiting.

She was a right little stunna who was wearing a tight skirt, which is a bloody rarity these days.

I'd noticed she was giving me the eye as I sat in the waiting room and I could feel a stirring in my trousers.

So, as I had an hour to kill, I thought I'd try a bit of the old charm on her.

Well, I must have been really good, or she must have been gagging for it, because I'd hardly opened my mouth before she was dragging me into an office, quickly locking the door behind her.

We locked lips and I soon had her impressive tits in my hands, playing with her stiff nipples before sucking them in turn.

Then she pulled out my rock-hard cock and started sucking on my bellend. Even I couldn't believe my luck as she slowly ran her tongue up and down my shaft, while gently squeezing my swollen ballbag.

Next I bent her over a desk and lifted up her skirt to reveal the peachiest little arse I've ever seen.

I pulled aside her G-string and thrust my throbbing cock in and out of her sopping wet pussy.

I banged away for a good 10 minutes until we both orgasmed together and collapsed on the desk.

Problem is, she was screaming like a wailing banshee and I'm worried my old mum might have heard and will tell the missus.

What should I do?

BG, Norfolk

Ashleigh says...

DON'T worry, your mum was having a hearing test, so she probably heard fk all!

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I suck dozens of cocks and lick lots of pussy!'

...WITH MISHA
KASPINSKY
34E-26-35
FROM LEEDS

I HAVE a really high sex drive and many, many sexual fantasies, some fulfilled and some not...yet!

One that is definitely on my bucket list is to go to a posh sex party, one of those high-end ones held in a castle or mansion where people get dressed up in dinner party gear and wear masquerade masks.

I fantasise that I'm being surrounded by beautiful men and women and a group of around six of them take a fancy to me.

Licked

I'm the centre of attention and many people are kissing me and I lose count of the hands caressing me.

My boobs are freed and my nipples are licked and it's all so delicious.

I'm being devoured. I don't know who is licking my pussy but soon after I've cum I'm flipped over and a guy starts taking me from behind.

A gorgeous blonde presents her huge titties to me and I bury my face in them.

During the course of the night I suck dozens of cocks, lick lots of pussy and have men taking turns fking me.

Total heaven!

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Downton Abbey this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of noshing as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

KATHY LLOYD

DOMINIC Mitchell might work with melted metal all day but he's hard as a rock when he sees glamour legend Kathy Lloyd.

Steel fabricator Dominic, 65, from Sheffield, fancies the pants off Kathy and is in awe of her 32Ds.

He said: "I'll never bump into her but I guess having photos of her topless is more than enough. One glance at her pictures and I feel a twitch down south."

VICTORIA BLAZE

BUSTY blonde Claire Anderson caught the eye of garden centre worker Craig Watt.

Craig, 39, from Luton, wanted a hot image of Hull beauty Victoria and we hope this one of her showing her 32D boobs won't disappoint.

Craig told us: "Victoria's a stunna and she's just about the perfect tease."

GAIL McKENNA

BURLY builder Steve Gilbert would have loved to have copped a feel of Gail McKenna's boobies.

The 43-year-old builder, from Tamworth in Staffs, wanted a photo of the now-retired model to prove to his work pals just how fit she was.

So we've dug out the hottest photo of Ealing stunna Gail with her huge 32Ds on full display.

He said: "I can't wait for the lads to see her, there will be no doubt about who's the fittest Sport girl ever, once they see Gail."

"I'll be proved right once again!"

SEX-MAD Charlie Rose has one big wish she wants to tick off her sex bucket list, and it's taking part in an ORGY!

Curvy Charlie, from Islington in north London, is more than willing to have a threesome, just as long as she's the main attraction.

The brunette babe, who boasts an impressive pair of 34D norks, said: "I haven't done group sex yet, but never say never!

"I am still young and there's plenty of time on my side.

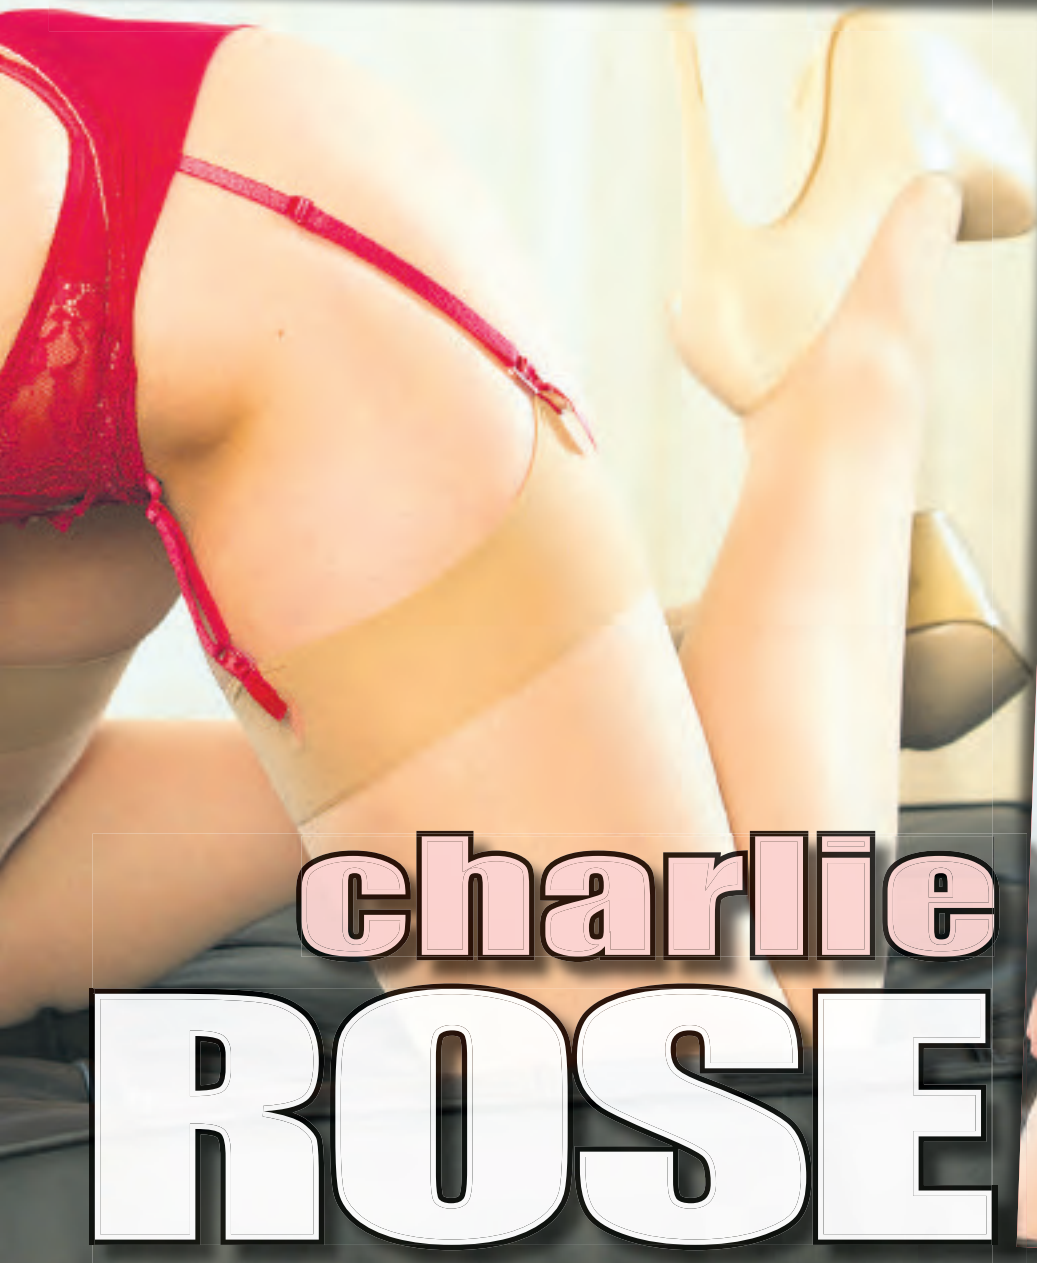

"I'd definitely be up for having a threeway, with a guy and another girl, but I'm quite greedy, so I would want plenty of attention from both of them.

"I have kissed a few girls but never taken it any further. However, I'd be tempted, if a really fit girl came along.

"I've always been turned on by women with big boobs."

ROCKED: Paul Pogba

Roy ain't Keane on Pogba's defending

PAUL Pogba has been blasted by United legend Roy Keane after France crashed out of the Euros.

The Reds midfielder scored a wondergoal as Les Bleus looked set to beat Switzerland in their last-16 tie.

But he was at fault as the Swiss came roaring back with two late goals to force extra-time.

They went through on penalties, sending shockwaves through the tournament.

Keane is never slow to give his opinion and wasn't impressed with Pogba's defensive work.

He said: "I'd be looking at the goal they conceded in injury time when he was sloppy in midfield, that's the bit I'd be really critical.

"It seems harsh because he's done some brilliant stuff going forward, there's no doubt in Paul's quality, it's just the other side, maybe his maturity.

"United have had these problems.

"Can he play in a two midfield? He probably can't, he hasn't got the discipline.

"He leaves you frustrated, even with his brilliant quality going forward he lacks that discipline defensively.

"The top players do it week in and week out and Paul doesn't quite do it."

Parker in at Cherries

SCOTT Parker has taken over as manager of Bournemouth.

The former England midfielder left Fulham earlier this week and has been installed on the south coast.

Parker succeeds Jonathan Woodgate who took the Cherries to the play-off semis.

He is taking most of his coaching staff including his No2 at Fulham Matt Wells.

Swansea gaffer Steve Cooper is favourite to take over at Craven Cottage.

Fulham chief Shahid Khan said: "We will hire a new Head Coach who is capable of achieving our goal of promotion."

PREMIER LEAGUE TEAMS MAKING A RIGHT

MANAGER MADNESS HITS CLUBS

Spurs, Everton and Palace in struggle to find right gaffer

THREE of England's biggest clubs are making a right mess of finding their next manager.

It has been farcical to watch Tottenham, Everton and Crystal Palace give their fans sleepless nights as they try to fill their hotseats.

Spurs have have more candidates than former owner Sir Alan Sugar's Apprentice TV show, while Palace seem to have been knocked back twice — once when the deal was announced in the media.

And Everton have got themselves into such a mess that they are appointing a Liverpool legend who called them a "small club" and used to wind the fans up something rotten.

That has led to anti-Rafa Benitez banners and graffiti at Goodison Park with more sinister actions near the Spaniard's house.

By PAUL THOMAS

Looking at Tottenham, it looks like the Londoners have focused on either Belgium boss Roberto Martinez or Brighton gaffer Graham Potter — unless they can persuade Mauricio Pochettino to return.

That's quite a contrast and it will take plenty of persuasion to convince Martinez to walk away from the world's No1 international side to come to the Lane.

There's clearly not much money to spend otherwise one of the other big names would have taken over.

And it's a long list of managers who seemed to have snubbed Spurs — Pochettino, Antonio Conte, Julien Nagelsmann, Paulo Fonseca, Gennaro Gattuso, Nuno Espirito Santo and Brendan Rodgers.

It has even got to the stage where Jurgen Klinsmann was pitching for the job on live telly.

The latest hope for Spurs is that Pochettino will ride to the rescue.

Happy

After France were knocked out of Euro 2020, it looks like national gaffer Didier Deschamps will be shown the door.

And Paris St Germain would be more than happy for him to take over — meaning Poch would be free to come back to Tottenham.

Zinedine Zidane is the man most likely to take over the French side and he's one of the few names who hasn't been linked to Spurs! So maybe there's some hope for the Londoners to have their new manager in charge in time for the new season.

Across the capital, it looks like Patrick Vieira may take over at Palace after Lucien Favre pulled out despite it being widely reported that he was the Eagles' new gaffer.

The former Arsenal skipper has a mixed record as a manager but has come out of nowhere to become the No1 pick to succeed Roy Hodgson.

He looks the only option for the south Londoners with Sean Dyche almost certain to stay at Burnley.

But the most controversial choice is Rafa Benitez taking over at Goodison Park.

There has been uproar with Everton fans who don't want "the fat Spanish waiter" as they call him in

MESS OF FILLING THEIR HOTSEATS

BAD MOVE: Everton are keen on Liverpool legend Rafa Benitez — to the fury of their fans charge of their club. But owner Farhad Moshiri wants him at Goodison Park.

He's looking at his title and Champions League-winner CV and not his links with Liverpool.

It looks a matter of when and not if Benitez is being unveiled to the Everton faithful — complete with a blue scarf around his neck!

Stick

The deal has been on a knife-edge but Benitez is likely to be behind an Everton desk whatever some of the more vocal fans think.

Big Sam Allardyce wasn't popular with Everton fans during his time in charge at Goodison — but the stick he got is nothing compared to what many Toffees feel about Rafa.

And the former England boss is warning that the defensive football that went down so badly is Benitez's style too.

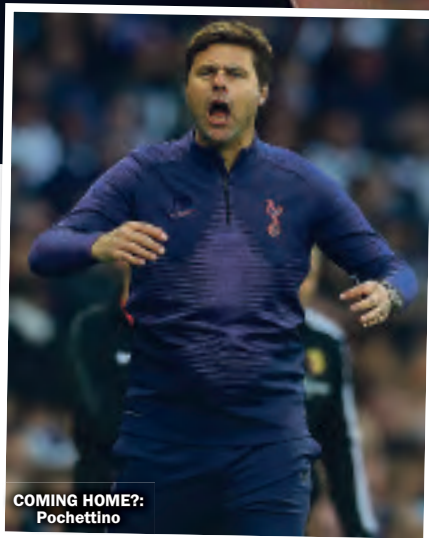

Big Sam said: "I have seen there are a lot of Everton fans unhappy about the situation because of the rivalry between the two clubs."

"Rafa's track record is very good. But I have to say, if you call me a defensive-minded coach then Rafa's exactly the same as I am."

"He bases his performances on clean sheets and building from there and he has done that throughout his career."

"So, if they are talking about open and expansive football then I don't think that's the case with employing someone like Rafa."

"I think that will come eventually, depending on what players they let go and bring in."

BACK: Murray

Murray in a hurry to win third Wimbo

TENNIS By ANDY MILLOM

ANDY Murray insists he can still go far at Wimbledon despite all his injury problems.

The Scot has been through the mill in the past few years and even has metal in his hip.

That means the 34-year-old has barely played since 2017.

You wouldn't have known it in the first two and a half sets of his Wimbledon comeback as went 2-0 up and was serving for the match. But he lost seven games in a row before coming back after a rainbreak to get the job done.

That saw Murray into the second round and he's confident that he can show the sort of form that has seen him win two Wimbledons.

He said: "I keep getting asked: Is this gonna be my last Wimbledon? Last match?"

"I don't know why I keep getting asked about it. Like, no, I'm going to keep playing. I want to play."

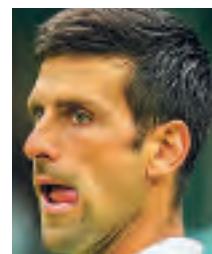

"I'm enjoying it and I can still play at the highest level."

Murray admits it's been a much tougher road back to fitness than he was hoping for.

He added: "It's been extremely tough, even these last few months."

"I didn't have the most serious of injuries but it's been extremely frustrating not being able to get on the court, and I've had such little momentum over these last few years."

"I've kept trying, kept working hard in the gym, kept doing all the right things to get me back in the position. And I feel very lucky I get to do it again."

Meanwhile, we may have seen the next Andy Murray as young Brit Jack Draper gave Novak Djokovic a scare by winning the first set of their match.

The 19-year-old lost the next three sets but Djokovic said: "Walking on to Wimbledon Centre Court for the first time, I think he has done well and played maturely."

Rugby: New faces for England

A WHOPPING 23 uncapped players have been called into England's rugby union squad for the summer Test matches.

Coach Eddie Jones has named a 37-man party to take on the USA and Canada with only 14 having worn the Red Rose before.

Henry Slade is the most experienced player in the squad with 36 caps.

Jones has brought in so many new faces mainly because most of his team will be on tour with the British and Irish Lions in South Africa.

He has decided to rest others—including Billy Vunipola, George Ford and Jonny May.

England take on the USA at Twickers this Sunday with Canada the following Saturday. The A international against Scotland was cancelled after a Covid outbreak.

WE CAN GET BETTER!

Fernandinho fires warning to City rivals

FERNANDINHO believes Manchester City will be better next season—as he signed a new deal.

The Brazilian veteran is a key man for the Premier League champions who have been boosted by his contract extension.

The 36-year-old will stay at the Etihad for another year and has his eyes on ending City's Champions League hoodoo after they were beaten by Chelsea in last season's final.

Fernandinho said: "In my head and my mind, the job is not done yet."

"And so that's why I decided to stay here another year and try to help the team and the club to achieve the goals that they're looking for.

"In my point of view, we can do that, there's still places to improve and to get those targets.

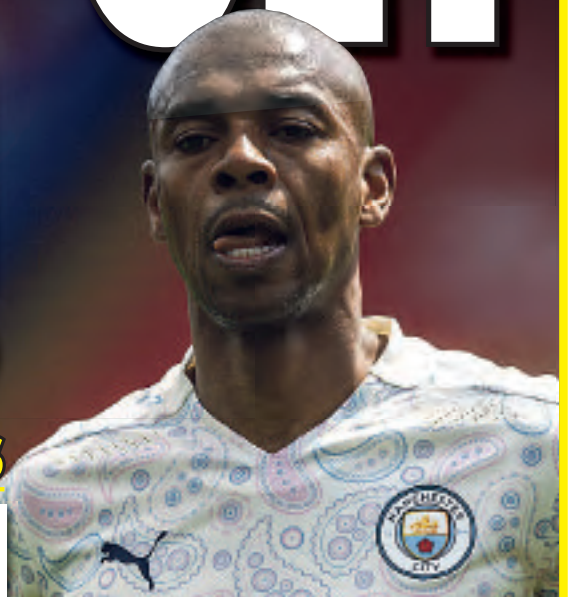

"And obviously, for me and for my family it's a pleasure to stay in Manchester for one more year.

"If I can keep doing the same way, leading them inside the pitch, off the pitch, to help them to improve and get better and to perform better during the games, I would be the most happy person there."

There could be more boosts for City before the season kicks off.

Pep Guardiola is being linked with moves for Harry Kane and Jack Grealish as soon as the Euros are over.
